Summary:

Planning and designing a garden is the most important thing you will do. The landscape design plan is a representation of the finished product, its a combination of site, home and lifestyle considerations within a design solution. A landscape plan delivers the best design outcome for your garden making the most of your outdoor area. The landscape design plan is the technical part that leads the construction project, reduced issues and adds value. When designing a garden, simply work with the idea that: "the garden suits your lifestyle, complements your home, provides you with an urban refuge, visual pleasure and personal joy".
